

HUGE TAX JUMP!

Some of the 102 persons who were at the annual Finance Committee Hearing, Monday night, in the Herbert C Barrows Auditorium got the bad news through their own addition of figures, and others had it confirmed by individual members of the Finance Committee after the hearing had been completed:

The tax rate of Wilmington, for 1963, is headed for a $6 to $8 increase over that of 1962, a rate increase equivalent to $12 or $16, in the past years, and the biggest jump in nearly 20 years.

The highlight of the evening, perhaps, was a passage between Chief of Police Paul Lynch and Town Manager Harold Melzar, in which both gentlemen were quoting the law to each other, and in which Melzar read that portion of the Town Charter which states the powers of the Town Manager, relative to setting of wages, and employment of Town Employees.

Lynch arose, after the meeting was about concluded, to question the proposals on salaries of Police men, and more particularly, the allocation of no more money for clerical assistance in the Police Station.

After he had spoken for some time, and after the exchange between himself and Melzar, Carl Gubellini, Chairman of the Finance Committee told Lynch that he had had opportunities to talk with both the Selectmen and the Finance Committee, and that the suggestions just read, and to which Lynch was objecting were the Town Manager's proposals, and not the final recommendation of the Finance Committee.

The hearing, for the first time in recent history, saw printed copies of the warrant available in limited numbers for those present. There are 34 articles in the Town Warrant for this year.

Erwin Hanke, Chairman of the Permanent Building Committee, told the Finance Committee that the plans being prepared for the new Woburn Street school will call for a building of two stories in part, costing $615,520.

The building itself will cost $440,000 Hanke said. Site Acquisition will come to $75,000, and the Architectural and Engineering fees will be $40,520.

A 20 foot lighted pedway is to be built in back, to connect to both Linda Road and Marcia Road.

Sewerage Costs

Article 6 of the Warrant will be a 'no money' article, one that will establish the future policies of the town with regard to the 'Betterment Costs' of public sewers.

Waldo Stevens, Water and Sewer Commissioner, told the Finance Committee that the Board of Water & Sewer Commissioners will recommend a 40 - 60% division, approximately, of costs

Street Betterments

Sad news came to the residents of two streets which seek to be constructed under the Betterment Act, when it was announced that the costs of the Betterments on Cedar Crest Avenue will be $10.46 a foot, and on Reading Ave the costs will be $12.82 a foot.

Hot Topping

Article 13 will propose the hot-topping of areas around several schools, and found Town Manager Harold Melzar somewhat opposed. Chairman John Brooks of the Selectmen stated that he believed the work could be spread out over several years.

Brooks stated that at the Wildwood School the buses have enough room, except that some cars are illegally parked, and noted that there are no more teachers there now than there were some few years ago.

Fire Alarms

Under Article 14 $2500 is proposed, to extend the fire alarm system. The Finance Committee were told that 3 miles of wire would be used, that 2 additional fire alarm boxes would be installed in Hathaway Acres, 1 at Shady Lane Drive, 1 at Woburn Street and Brentwood Avenue, and 1 on Parker Street.

Wildwood School Pedway

Land acquisition costs for the proposed Wildwood School Pedway from Federal Street would be $4500 Brooks told the Finance Committee and the cost of constructing the Pedway would be $12,000.

Selectman Candidate Roland Wood asked if the Principal Assessor had been asked to determine the value of the land proposed to be purchased, and was told by Stanley Webber, the Assessor that he did not have any knowledge of the value, at this time because 'No one asked me'.

Danny Gillis, of the Planning Board suggested that the extra area, not needed for the proposed pedway might make a good future playground for the children of the area.

CANDIDATE'S NIGHT

The annual Candidate's Night of the Baldwin Civic Association, to be held in the High School Cafeteria next Tuesday evening, is taking a new twist this year.

Always the liveliest Candidates Night, and always held just before election, it has been the scene of some 'no holds barred' questions and answers in the past.

This year, with more candidates in the field than ever before, five candidates have been reported to declare that they will 'boycott' the meeting 'because it doesn't do any good'.

None of the five are reported to be willing that their names be used.

ULYSSES AT THE MAST

It was twenty five centuries ago that the Poet Homer described the voyage of the wily Ulysses of Ithaca through the dangers of Scylla and Charybdis, where the Syrens sang their alluring and dangerous songs.

Ulysses, who wanted to hear the music, had himself strapped to the mast, and the ears of his crew were plugged with wax, so that the seamen would tend to their rowing and pay no attention to the dangerous music.

Such is the situation in Wilmington today, when John Brooks, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, arises to speak. He means well, but it has got to the point where he even believes himself.

Somebody's ears should be plugged, and someone should be lashed to the mast, but the big question is: Who?

John's speech, Monday night, before the Finance Committee, on the proposed takings of land at Ballardvale Street, was a Doozey.

He was trying to say that the Selectmen and Planning Board could not agree, a statement that was simply put to rights by a few words from the Planning Board Chairman, when that gentleman said there was no disagreement.

But John's opening paragraph was a master piece of literary effort, and deserves to be quoted in full, viz:

"Our agreement with the Planning Board last summer left us with the thought that we were in agreement on what we had agreed about, but now we are given to understand that we are in disagreement as to what we agreed about-----"

By the time John had finished everyone's ears were spinning, and it took the matter-of-fact speech of Bob Evans, the Planning Board Chairman, to bring the people back to the solid earth.

But it was the lyrical description of the Barbas property, in back of the Wildwood School, in which John outdid himself.

Afraid that the Finance Committee might not be properly impressed with the idea of buying 15.2 acres of land for $4500, John told the Finance Committee that he and the Town Engineer had spent a whole day on the property, and he left his listeners with the idea that he knew the property as well as he knew the palm of his own hand.

John described it as "totally land-locked except for one small entrance off Federal Street", which entrance, he alleged, was not as wide as is the stage of the Barrows Auditorium.

SUSIE'S SONNETS

by Sylvia Neilson

THE 50 MILE SPLASH

Listen to me, all of youse

Guys who'd like to make the news:

Fifty miles in hiking shoes

You must make; then a sprint

And a flourish. This here stint

Might land you in the gover'mint.

It was a wonderful speech. Unfortunately it wasn't in accord with the facts, which is somewhat near par for the course with John's speeches.

Danny Gillis snot down one of the fancy-free flights of imagination when he described a few moments later another entrance to the area, from Wing Road.

Danny didn't describe the third entrance which is off Wildwood Street, between the Wildwood School and the Ramsdell property

If John Brooks spent a whole day going over the property with the Town Engineer either John didn't do a good job of listening, or the Town Engineer didn't do a good job of telling, for the property is not land locked, but has entrance from three different streets.

As such it is a good buy for $4500, and all the flights of fancy were not needed to say so.

Someone should be tied to the mast, at about this point - but the question is: John Brooks, - or his listeners?

TIME FOR SOME ANTI-SHARPSHOOTERS

For the past three years the taxpayers of Wilmington have been watching a most wondrous performance, in which the Selectmen, in each annual Town Meeting, would talk of the "wonderful new industry just about to locate in Wilmington", and the Town Manager would have some of Wilmington's better residential land rezoned for industry, hinting that he had something up his sleeve.

At the same time sharp-shooting opponents of local businessmen would shoot down proposals for rezoning "or known business while town officials in whom trust was placed sat by helplessly.

It has been quite an act, and the six or eight dollar increase in taxes this year is to be a direct result.

Most certainly the cry will go up that the increase in taxes is the result of having more schools and school children.

The statement is true. And just as true is the statement that the town has known for years that the schools would be built, and that more are to be built in the years to come. Those new school children didn't just drop in unexpectedly. Everyone, even the town officials, knew they were coming.

TOWN NOTES

Sniffles and Colds

According to the papers the first cases of the Asian flu are supposed to be in Massachusetts, during the past week, but there are none in Wilmington, as of this moment. Just sniffles and colds. So says the Board of Health, and they should know.

Laura Marland, teacher to several generations of Wilmington English scholars, is one of those who has had the sniffles. She had to spend a few days at home last week. She is expected to be on deck, bright and chipper, when school opens after the February vacation, next Monday morning.

Third Hand Info

The fire at the Howard Johnsons in Andover, Tuesday night, was quite an event for conversation in Wilmington yesterday.

Half a dozen of last falls Football Squad hiked over there yesterday afternoon, to view the ruins. It is only about seven miles over and seven back, so the boys don't qualify for JFK's 50 mile events, but they were rather footsore and weary, when we spotted them on the return trip.

One young lady (we got this story third or fourth hand, and can't guarantee it) had quite an adventure at the time the fire started, according to the tale that was told to us.

One of the first things that happened was that the lights went out. The young lady knew where the wall telephone was, and went to call the Fire Department.

The way we hear the story, the telephone operator wanted to know the number from which she was calling.

She explained it was an emergency, there were no lights, the place on fire, and she had to get the Fire Department.

The operator said again 'What number are you calling from Please?'

When the young lady, (again according to the story) finally got the Fire Department, and the brave Fire Laddies arrived, they just had to stand around and watch the place burn - for the electric power for the well was shut off, and there was no water.

You can't always believe third hand stories, but they sound good just the same.

Expired Options

A couple of weeks ago this paper carried a suggestion that the area in the Wilmington-Tewksbury-Andover triangle might be a good site for the $50 million NASA project. (continued on next page) have lost sight of the "In order to attract you must first be attractive" slogan which in effect brought Avco to Wilmington. Avco is now paying about 20% of the town's total tax bill.

Today's efforts to attract something like Avco can better be compared to a muddy boot.

The result of that muddy boot will be an increase of over $100 in the taxes for the average homeowner of Wilmington this year. and by the time the new Woburn Street school is completed the increase will be nearer $150.

If, as seems to be the case, there is any wholesale housing developments in Wilmington in the next couple of years the taxpayer can expect the pyramid of increasing taxes to grow still further.

All of which makes the sharpshooting now going on with reference to the proposals of the Wilmington Development Company, more interesting.

In two years this company has brought in two fine firms - Photon and the Munroe paper Company. This year, from these two firms, the town will realize about $20,000 in tax revenues - the equivalent of 50 homes, and with no increase in school costs.

The company is proposing to convert some swamps in North Wilmington, on which homes can never be built, into an industrial park. If its plans mature the town's tax coffers will be richer by about $120,000 a year.

That $120,000 won't kill the six or eight dollar tax increase this year - but it will help to stop the trend. It will be the equal of $2 or $3 in a few years to come, on the tax rate.

It is time that the taxpayers of Wilmington awoke to the situation.

It is time for the taxpayers of Wilmington to organize an "anti-sharpshooting" squad.

Either that, or start a wholesale painting of "For Sale" signs.

THE 1963 ELECTIONS

The 1963 elections, as this paper sees things, is going to depend on one question only - how many people turn out to vote.

Veteran Selectman Charlie Black, well beloved by many of Wilmington's people, is up against some energetic opposition. Three years ago Mr. Black received about 1350 votes.

He can be certain of the same vote again this year.

Last year Rene LaRivee, now in his fourth effort, polled over 1100 votes.

In other words if 2500 or less voters turn out, Mr. Black and Mr. LaRivee are in like Flynn.

But if there are over 2500 voters, then Mr. Wood or Mr. Bender will be giving Charles and Rene a race for their money.

observing at the same time that there was a good chance that the site had already been picked.

So there was a story last week that this might be the site, one of those 'iffy' things, and it named a couple of local business men as being owners and having options on the land.

If, for instance, NASA were to locate there, the local men stood in the way of making a buck or two, which, it being smart business, no one would begrudge them.

But, (possibly unfortunately) the options, or at least some of them, for the territory have expired, and the original owners are again free agents.

Jeanne & Altitude

Jeanne is now in Hakone, Japan, and has completed the Preliminary Trials for the World Championship races in speed skating.

A report in the Boston Globe a couple of days ago said that she didn't think she would do as good as she had hoped to - because the place where the championships are to be held has too great an altitude.

Town Report

The annual Town Report is nearly ready for the printer, and the word this year is that it will be a slimmer volume than usual. Harold doesn't seem to believe in using a lot of words and pictures.

There is also a report that the salaries of all the school personnel, teachers, etc etc is to be printed, something that hasn't happened for years.

Skilling Priest

The people of St Thomas Parish are enjoying their own little joke, with Father Paul Berube being the hero (?). It has reference to the good Priest's love of skilling.

The story is that Father Berube is going to be transferred by the Archdiocese, to the new Catholic Church in North Reading, the one on Haverhill Street, with the funny sloping roof.

Father Berube won't have to go to the mountains, then, the joke says. He can do all his skiing on the roof, and always be available when needed for churchly duties.

CYO YOUNGSTERS STRANDED IN NEW HAMPSHIRE BY TUESDAY'S SNOWFALL

Some of the 68 people from St. Thomas Church who took part in a CYO skiing party at North Conway New Hampshire Monday and Tuesday, had the dubious pleasure of being snowed in by Tuesday's snowstorm.

Two groups went to North Conway, under the guidance of Father Paul Berube. The first group, who went by bus, returned safely before the snowfall began.

The second group included 68 persons, 15 adults and 53 youngsters. They were in eleven cars, and seven of the cars found it impossible to continue, on the journey home.

The group with Father Berube stayed overnight at a motel in Wakefield NH and returned home safely Wednesday morning, as did all the others.

Two of the young ladies in the party suffered slight injuries in skiing. Pat Jaquith of Dorothy Ave may possibly have a sprained ankle, and Claire MacMullin of Kirk Street is in the St. Johns' hospital in Lowell, undergoing observation for a possible fractured collarbone.

'PAT' THIBEAU DIRECTS US RADIOLOGICAL - HEALTH STUDY.

Major Patrick Thibau, US Public Health Service, former Public Health Officer of the Town of Wilmington, is now in charge of a Federal study of Radiological Fallout and Health, in Washington DC. Surgeon General Luther L Terry of the Public Health Service announced last week that $1.5 millions had been allocated to the study in the various states. The program is designed to assist the states in their own studies, and capabilities, on a 'matching' basis, helping the various states to develop 'monitoring' units for Fall out, and to increase surveillance of environmental radiation.

Two states, Virginia and Maryland, are, to date, taking part in the program.

3. The creation of an Industrial Commission which would seek to interest the right type of industry to locate in areas already zoned for such purposes.

4. Work to establish good will and co-operation between the Selectmen and the various boards of the town.

5. Conservation of the towns' resources such as: Water, by reforestation and replanting of old gravel areas.

MURAL ON PAPER BUSINESS AT MUNROE PAPER: A mural, painted in the last month by D E Malley Gary, of Hopkins Street, Reading, has been placed on the wall of the lobby of the Munroe Paper Company, in North Wilmington.

The six panels denote various phases in the paper industry, from the seedling trees to the finished product.

(From Fr. Page)

Boutwell Street

Article 23 proposed the reconstruction of Boutwell Street, from the Boutwell School to Aldrich Road. Brooks told the Finance Committee that $40,000 had been spent so far, and that the cost to Aldrich Road would be another $60,000.

TM Melzar said the work could be done in one year, or in two. He had some $20,000 available he said so that the direct cost out of taxation, this year (if a two year project) would be $10,000.

The work, Brooks said, would include widening of the street, changing of grades, sidewalks and curbing, and a 'planting strip'.

Zoning Articles

Articles 27 through 33 are proposals to do with the Zoning By Law. Most of the interest was shown in Article 31, which is the proposal of the Wilmington Development Company to extend its Industrial Park into the swamp in back of the former Harriman Tannery.

Chairman John Brooks of the Board of Selectmen spoke strongly in favor of the article, saying that it would mean a $3 to $5 million increase in taxable property, and that 'the value to the taxpayers is quite clear'.

There is no comparison, he said, between the present swamp and the property as it will be when developed.

Among those who spoke was Jim Costello, of Wilmington Development Company. He assured the Finance Committee that all the buildings proposed would be of the same type of construction as the Photon and Munroe Paper buildings, and stated further that the building now under construction is planned to have a marble front.

Ralph Zwicker of Mystic Avenue spoke against the proposal, saying that employees of the companies are using First Avenue for parking, and that, with 40 children in the area, he was not 'happy'.

Brooks told the Finance Committee that, in spite of all the land in Wilmington that has been zoned for industry there are only eight parcels of land that he considered to be for sale. The rest is not for sale, he said, or the price is too exorbitant.

Selectman De Felice went on record as being for the re-zoning, saying that he would like to see more buildings like the Photon Building.

He was followed by Costello, who told the Finance Committee that his company had tried to buy land along Main Street, but that the price was over $10,000 an acre. When asked about Ballardvale Street Costello pointed out that there would still be traffic through residential areas, which was the objection of those opposed to the proposals.

Ballardvale Street

The last article is a proposal to take by eminent domain 10 feet of land on the westerly side of Ballardvale Street, which proposal found Mr Brooks saying that he and the Planning Board were not in agreement, and John (Bob) Evans, of the Planning Board saying that they were.

There was a considerable and confused discussion relating to sidewalks and children, with Roland Woods speaking up to ask questions about when 'the work was stopped' last fall, and Brooks saying that when the work was stopped the project was finished.

Lee Campbell of Lockwood Road thought that it would be a waste of town's money merely to complete a 'sidewalk that leads no where' and then cited the Middlesex Avenue sidewalk as having been built 'out of highway funds' and decisions 'behind closed doors'.

Brooks said that the Middlesex Avenue sidewalk was built out of 'that were appropriated for it', and Campbell said that if he was wrong he would apologize.

Cherry Sheet

John Brooks told the Finance Committee, at the very end of the hearing, that the 'Cherry Sheet' (so called because of its color) which the State sends to each town listing payments to be expected, etc., would be late this year, not only for Wilmington but for all the towns of the Commonwealth. He hoped to get it in about 14 days, he told the Committee.

LETTERS

Dear Larz:

This is to announce that the Park Street Acres Association will hold a candidates night, next Monday evening.

Yours very truly

Dear Larz:

Thank you for printing my letter last week. It was a pleasant surprise to discover that a number of people had read it when I asked them to sign my petition. The situation is no better this against Wilmington, the town, the people, etc etc.

Mr Dunham's letter, this week is somewhat astray from the Town Crier's baliwick)

Dear Larz:

Recently you had an article in the Town Crier reporting an incident of courtesy by members of the Police Department to an out-of-stater.

I would like to share my experience of last week when Officer John Harvey was taking the census he found me trying to get my car started.

After taking the information required he proceeded to start my car, which required attaching a 'jumper' from the battery of his car to mine.

I was able to go on my way with out any further difficulty, thanks to Officer Harvey's thoughtfulness.

This is a continuation of the courtesy we have observed on the part of the Wilmington Police Department since we moved here in 1955.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs Fred McAvoy
7 Kiernan Ave.

Dear Larz:

Having noticed an article in a paper which stated that Congressman Bradford Morse had promised the Town of Tewksbury to look into Federal Aid for a new public library, I wrote the Congressman on this subject myself. Within four days I was sent material referring me to the 'Housing and Home Finance Agency - Community Facilities Administration' under which is an agency for Public Facility Loans Programs.

The regional office for this state 13, NY. The material I have does not go into great detail, and gives no specifics regarding libraries, but does state that Federal Aid is available to communities with a population of under 50,000; and that such aid may be used for planning as well as construction of said facility.

A Boston Herald article of Saturday, Feb. 16th said: 'The Communities Facilities Administration announce Friday approval of a $162,000 grant to Lowell Mass, to rehabilitate the Alken Street bridge, and a $25,000 grant to Orleans, Vt. for construction of water facilities'

Though I am not a proponent of Federal Aid per se, I wonder if it might not be better to check into this form of aid for Wilmington's Public Library Facilities. It just might prove to be cheaper and better than spending the taxpayers money on an old wooden building which would have to be replaced in a few years anyway.

Sincerely,
Evelyn M. Norton.

Wilmington

Dear Larz:

In regard to rezoning land for the Wilmington Development Co. The land they are requesting to be rezoned is ninety percent swamp. When any development company wants to take low value tax land, and change it to very valuable tax land, as per this instance, the old tannery sewerage plant, that is the kind of enterprise that is good for Wilmington.

As for objection to what they might place on that land, - has anybody objected to the four enterprises already started by this same developer?

I say 'more power' to that kind of development.

Respectfully,
Rodney E. Buck.

Dear Larz:

A couple of weeks ago I remarked about meetings in the dark of the night at the town hall. I made this remark after a member of the Planning Board told me as a private citizen I was not able to attend a Planning Board session. Mr. Dan Gillis said board took exception to the remark and felt that it was a personal insult to him. Let me say publicly to him that if I had meant to insult him or anyone else I would have done a much better job at it than that one statement. So to Dan Gillis and any other honest official my apologies. To the rest, - if the shoe fits....

Back to business. It seems that one Mr Caterino and his Wilmington Development Co doesn't care much about this town. If they did they wouldn't put in industry where the only access to the area was through a residential area. Regardless of the direction from which cars and trucks would come to his proposed site the children of this town would be exposed to speeding vehicles.

People going to and from work care little about the residential. Their only interest is getting to and from their place of employment.

Conditions are made worse by our town not having adequate police protection to patrol the streets effectively. There are four officers on duty each shift. One must remain in the station and one in the square to direct traffic there. This leaves two officers and a sergeant to patrol the 17.08 square miles of Wilmington. If we can't have enough police coverage to our traffic problems now what kind of snarled mess will we have with an industrial complex right in the middle of North Wilmington?

When Mr Costello, Mr Caterino's representative, spoke to me I asked for the safety of the children in the area. I got the answer that the Whitefield School is directly across from Photon and no one has been killed yet.

If industry goes in there will be a five or six hundred per cent increase in the number of factories. We can count on traffic rising in this area about the same amount. Now what odds do these children have? Of course I should keep quiet and just wait and see because "no one has been killed yet".

However, for some strange reason I like kids. Because I like them and because they seem much happier running and playing than they do in a hospital recovering or even worse not recovering after being struck down by a truck or auto I write this.

The average age of the population of Wilmington hovers around twenty-nine years. I hope that all the young people of this town will protect their children AND their neighbors children by appearing at the Town Meeting and defeating the industrial rezoning that threatens to chop our town into a gobledgook mess.

Very truly yours,
William D MacKinnon, Jr.READ

BENDER SPEAKS ON TOWN MANAGER CHOICE

At several house parties this week Selectman Candidate Lloyd C Bender criticized the Board of Selectmen for failure to provide effective leadership and sound fiscal management.

Bender pointed to predictions of a shocking tax rate increase, stemming from the Finance Committee hearings held earlier this week.

He said that it would be extremely inappropriate for the current Board of Selectmen to make any hasty last minute appointment of a Town Manager prior to the town election.

Mr Bender's full statement was:

"It was with deep concern that I observed last evening's public hearing on the warrant for the annual Town Meeting, which made painfully clear that our community is facing a tax increase of shocking proportions. It can well be that each of us will be faced with paying $10 to $15 a month more for our houses because of this drastic increase.

This fact, coupled with the unexplained dissipation of our cash reserves and the failure to appoint a professional town manager for approximately six months is indicative of the need for expert and professional fiscal and practical management of our town affairs. The delay in the appointment of a town manager is inexcusable.

To compound these unhappy conditions with any hasty, politically motivated appointments of a town manager at this time, without giving the voters of our town an opportunity to voice their approval, or disapproval of the leadership, membership and attitude of the current Board of Selectmen on election day, would be a complete disregard of the voters and an injustice to the taxpayers of our community.

Therefore I respectfully suggest that the Chairman and members of the current Board of Selectmen postpone any decision on the appointment of a Town Manager until the people of our town have had an opportunity to express their desires at the polls on Saturday March 2nd.
